MAN IN THE STREET

BY W. E. WALLACH

Look us well over today and read every one of the advertisements scattered through the Mishawaka pages. They will give you an idea of the bustling propensities of our merchants.

They are trying to tell us how to make mince pie good without the main ingredient, but no old-timer will have very much time or room to waste on mince pie a la bevo. H. G. Wells says the next war will take place in five, ten or fifty years. And, we suppose, if it doesn't take place then, it will happen in a hundred, a thousand or five thousand years. But it's coming.

The local poet of the American Legion is to be congratulated on making George Blair its commander. George is one of those rare young men who couldn't be unpopular if he wanted to.

The world is acting as if it had gumboils and tonsillitis, instead of as if it had a crop to make and a soul to save.

Anyway, it didn't require the Volstead act to make some apples we have been eating, dry.

Sometimes things happen that cause one to wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea to have a revision of some ethical codes by the legislature.

We notice from the other paper that the merchants and manufacturers of Mishawaka are demanding of Ralph Gaylor that he make the race for the postmastership! This must be the same bunch that drove him into working a recount at the recent election.

Anyway, David H. Wilber will succeed John Herzog.

The people who have no money are very sure they would gladden every heart in the world this Christmas if they had the money the rich folks have, but they are probably mistaken.

The Germans are said to be enthused over the prospect of Henry Ford's intention to establish a plant in their country, as it means new wealth for Germany. But they will make a great mistake if they look upon Henry as one of their easy marks.

Anyway, Henry can do as he pleases just so long as he doesn't take Johnny Rupp away from Mishawaka to manage the German business.

In Norfolk $60,000 worth of whiskey was found in a car of onions. Could you fancy a more outrageous combination? Wonder what the casualties were?

Clem Fulmer bought an overcoat in Chicago the past week and paid 300 bushels of corn for it. If it had been a suit for his wife he would probably have had to empty the elevator.

A Nebraska power company is said to be burning corn for fuel. We see so many of these corn-for-fuel items that we suggest to the prohibition officers to hang around the corn-burners awhile and smell the smoke.

Some of the cities of the middle west are employing beauty experts. Mishawaka is naturally beautiful. If you find anything unsightly about her, it is because men have made it so.

But, outside the business district, it is the darkest city on the continent, not excepting L.A.

Our observation is, winter itch is far more apt to cause reflection than produce enthusiasm.

If Uncle Sam must deliver it for you, buy it and mail it tomorrow.

We sincerely trust our old friend, George B. Williams, will soon be with us again. We miss George from our sanctum, and more especially his illuminating bon mots.

Get ready to stop at life's filling station and replenish your soul's tank with courage for the tasks of 1922. There's lots and lots to be done.

A fond farewell, Dr. Parker! Take keer of yourself, doc.

And just think of the offices the new Irish Free State will have to bestow upon its patriots of the democratic party.

The Center College football team, known as the "Praying Colonels," have won 8 games, lost 0, and cancelled 65.

Chicago university authorities are decrying excessive smoking among the women students. But at what point does a lady become an excessive smoker, anyway?

We are asked 50 times a day if we know when Bill Dodge is going to announce his appointments. We do not; but we believe from the large number seeking jobs, that it will take Bill until the last day of the year to get to the short list.

One Mishawaka citizen wants to start a newspaper in which he can say exactly what he thinks of everything and everybody. And while we haven't figured it out exactly, we believe the plan is entirely feasible, provided, of course, the $1,000,000 cash capital can be obtained.

Chief Fitzmorris of Chicago says he will make the town dry if it takes 5,000 copies. You know the Chicago cops. Five thousand of them can drink her dry unless the supply there is larger than we suppose.

That speech of Isaac Kane's before the South Bend Round Table members might be termed a classic in Mishawaka, considering the favor it found in South Bend.
